Stor-All Storage Celebrates Ten years at its Denver, Colorado Location

Stor-All Self Storage in Denver, Colorado reaches a milestone this month, by providing a decade of self storage service to the surrounding Denver area.

Deerfield Beach, Florida, August 1, 2013 – Stor-All’s Denver self storage property celebrates its 10th anniversary this month. The 3.15 acre property is located at 400 West Center Avenue in Denver, Colorado. Just south of downtown Denver, the self storage facility is conveniently located off highway I-25 and sits adjacent to Home Depot. Construction of the storage facility took a year to complete and operations began in July of 2003. The three story self storage building is comprised of 762 climate controlled storage units offering 65,000 square feet of self storage space.

After ten years, there have not been many improvements to the storage property besides new signage to the southwest side of the building that faces highway I-25. Staying on top of the small maintenance everyday is what makes this facility still look new. Property Manager, Derek Olson, who has been at the property for the last nine and a half years, notes, “I have enjoyed my experiences here seeing the property grow in size and occupancy. We continue to work hard to provide the cleanest, friendliest and most convenient self storage in the Denver market. I have treated this property from day one like it was my own. I put a lot of work into the property and take pride in all that we provide here. I feel as if I truly belong to a family driven company which is very important to me.”
